

How did we play through time?

KS1/2

Toys are the objects that we play with. They can be anything from simple pieces of string and plastic to fancy dolls and flashy computers. At any point in history and everywhere in the world, children played with toys. The toys may have looked different depending on what materials were available to use.

Below are two examples of the toys we have in our collection:

This is a Sorry board game, first made in the 1930's. Today's equivalent could be Pop-it or Ludo. Have you already played it?

These are the pieces for a Nigerian chess game from our collection, it shows you that different countries use different characters to play chess.
